

The 1960 Senior Class Presents . . .

FACULTY . . .

PAGE 8

The future of a nation lies in the developed minds of its youth. The achievement of educating millions of citizens rests with the teachers, perhaps the most important people in our lives next to our parents. Working and learning with a student is an end in itself, but at Roosevelt, the faculty prides itself on the excellent preparation it has tried to give each student whether he goes into business, college, or homemaking. Not only are Roosevelt students proud of their fine faculty, and indeed the whole city's, but also the fine citizens of Des Moines, more and more, are realizing the magnificent job their educators are doing. We, the class of 1960, would like to dedicate our Annual to the faculty of Roosevelt High School.

SENIORS . . .

Not many years ago, a question often asked was, what am I going to do with myself when I am older? Today amidst the complexities of this modern world this question must be abandoned for a new one; who am I? This is a question that should not be answered in the light of friend's opinions, but should be decided after deep self-evaluation, a meditation necessary to the point of urgency after eighteen years of life. A man must truly know himself in order to live in this world, and graduation day from college is too late. "Conquer yourself rather than the world."

UNDER- CLASSMEN

It would be an injustice to the school to consider the underclassmen less important than the seniors. Both complement each other to increase the order of the school and to keep each group from thinking that it is the only one in the world. Probably the greatest responsibility of the underclassmen is keeping the seniors from feeling too obsessed with the work encountered during the final year of high school. This the underclassmen achieve by smiling sweetly, by asking obvious questions, and mostly, by just being kids. While the seniors often have a worried-carefree appearance, the underclassmen, for the good of all, are just care-free.

JUNIOR HIGH . . .

The pros and cons of a combination junior-senior high school are numerous, but most of the boys and girls in junior high enjoy being known as students of Roosevelt High School. This part of Roosevelt has all the advantages of a senior high school: a fine library, adequate science facilities, even athletic teams. Yet, the students make up a separate entity using the advantages to the fullest potential so that they can receive the best education possible. Nobody seems to enjoy life more than the junior high student. Roosevelt will definitely lose some of its vivacity when Merrill Junior High is completed and these young people leave the school forever.

ATHLETICS . . .

PAGE 68

A modern philosopher once said that he learned his only lessons in moral ethics on the playing field. To duplicate this feat many times over is the goal of the Roosevelt Athletic Department. The competition one finds in sports, both team and individual, has much in common with life as a whole for it brings together diversified talents all striving for a certain goal. Although the most rewarding part of competitive sports is usually joy in winning, both the coaches and the athletes know a certain happiness in an honorable defeat. The worth of a sports program in a high school curriculum is judged best by the men and women it produces; Roosevelt High School can be proud of its success.

and, ACTIVITIES.

The addition of the seventh hour for extra-curricular activities has proved to be beneficial at Roosevelt. With forty-five minutes at the end of each school day devoted to clubs, student-teacher conferences, assemblies, and committee meetings, there are fewer interruptions in classes during the day. Extra-curricular activities provide the student not only with something to do besides school-work, but also with enjoyment and self-satisfaction that comes from using one's talent in service to the school. The diversified nature of the club system at Roosevelt makes it possible for everyone to participate in some activity if he is willing. Extra-curricular activities, however, can only serve their purpose when they help develop a person, not when they hinder his growth by occupying his whole time.

"They showed by their lives that they recognized the law of work, the law of strife; they toiled to win a competence for themselves and those dependent upon them; but they recognized that there were yet other and even loftier duties—duties to the nation and duties to the race."—Theodore Roosevelt

DELMER H. BATTRICK

Principal

In a school year that was packed with exciting events, Delmer H. Battrick, principal, was constantly on the lookout for new and better ways to make Roosevelt High School the fine educational institution that it always has been and will continue to be under his leadership. Mr. Battrick's long, busy day includes such activities as explaining procedures to substitute teachers, conferring with parents about their children, visiting a Student Council Meeting, discussing business with a group of teachers after school, and preparing the numerous reports necessary to keep a school in working order. In his six years of service as principal, Mr. Battrick has not only gained the respect and confidence of the students and teachers, but also has helped increase the prestige of Roosevelt High School throughout the nation.

MR. GARELD JACKSON

Vice-Principal

Boys' Advisor

The boys' advisor of a large city high school often has to assume the role of an objective analyzer of problems arising among the students. Mr. Gareld Jackson, vice-principal and boys' advisor, can always find time to talk to a boy who has a problem and he always makes an honest effort to solve it. Besides his administrative duties, Mr. Jackson supervises the Boys Activity Council, coordinates the sports program, handles disciplinary problems, and helps promote the spirit of the school. He tries to attend all activities in which Roosevelt students participate, such as athletic contests, school plays, and honorary dinners. The ease with which Mr. Jackson executes his responsibilities has earned him the confidence of all at Roosevelt.

MISS GRETTA WOLFE

Girls' Advisor

A familiar face at Roosevelt is that of Miss Gretta Wolfe, girls' advisor. Every day it is possible to step into a brightly curtained office and see a woman and a girl seated discussing a Girls' Club project, the choice of a college, or perhaps the successful solution of a personal problem. Besides her job as girls' advisor, Miss Wolfe spends a great amount of time organizing the senior class committees and planning the final activities prior to graduation. To help nearly a thousand girls is not an easy task, but Miss Wolfe tackles her job with unequalled enthusiasm and untiring devotion; the result is a well run school.

NURSE

Amid bandages, iodine, and thermometers, Mrs. Bridget Sweet is always willing to care for the sick youngster. Although her job may seem unpleasant to some, Mrs. Sweet enjoys serving the students of Roosevelt as is evidenced in the expert work she does.

LIBRARY ASSISTANT

Coming to Roosevelt this year, Miss Jean Troutfetter has proved to be a valuable assistant in our library. Her efforts coupled with those of Mr. Elliot have improved the order and efficiency of a fine library.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

DR. JOHN H. HARRIS

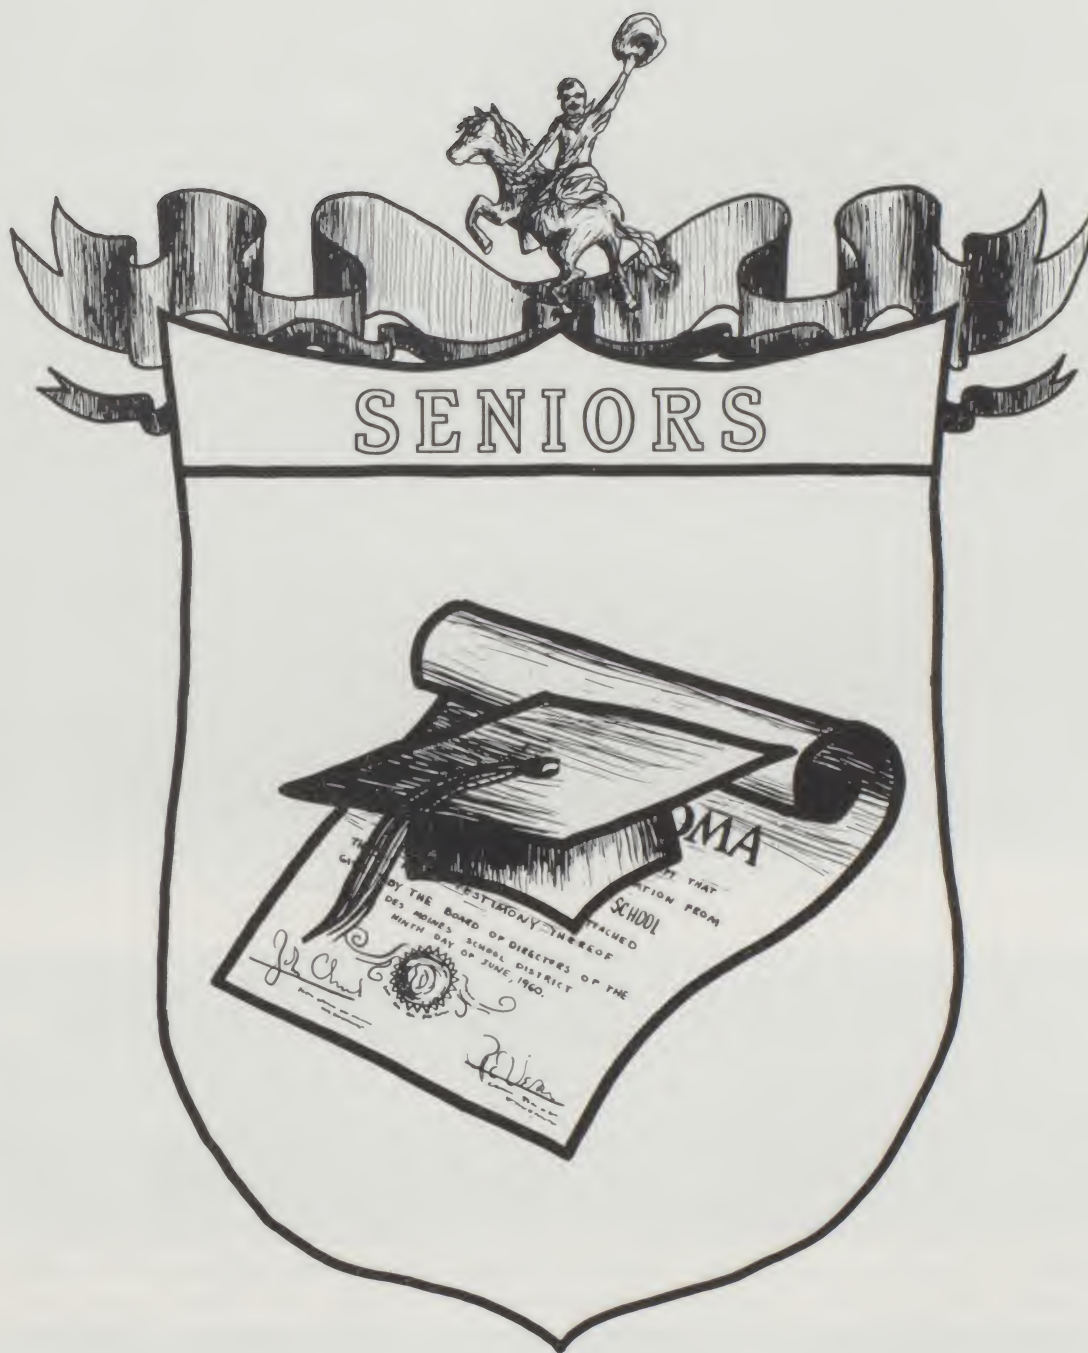

Superintendent of Schools

Since his arrival in Des Moines as Superintendent in 1957, Dr. Harris has worked diligently with the School Board to study, plan, and test new methods of improving our school system. It is the duty of Dr. Harris to administer the policies created by the School Board and to see that the various departments of the school district function smoothly. One of the year's highlights for Dr. Harris was his trip to Finland where he had the opportunity to view the European system of education.

"Let us therefore boldly face the life of strife, resolute to do our duty well and manfully; resolute to uphold righteousness by deed and word; resolute to be both honest and brave, to serve high ideals, yet to use practical methods. Above all, let us shrink from no strife, moral or physical, . . . provided we are certain that the strife is justified; for it is only through strife, through hard and dangerous endeavor, that we shall ultimately win the goal of true greatness."

—Theodore Roosevelt

JANUARY SENIOR CLASS

After three years of high school, seventy-five seniors said goodbye as students to Roosevelt High School and the Des Moines Public School System forever. The Commencement exercises on January 28 climaxed thirteen years of studying, growing, and learning in public schools. The main activities of this senior class began when class officers were elected in October. Prior to graduation, there was much excitement. On January 24, the seniors gathered in the auditorium to hear the Class Sermon delivered by the Rev. H. W. Opperman. The following day, a banquet was held at Bishop Cafeteria with Barry Smith as Master of Ceremonies, and on January 27, Art Turner presented the "Big Stick" to Jay Roberts, a representative of the June Senior Class. Finally on January 28, Commencement was held in the Roosevelt auditorium and the featured speaker was Dr. J. H. Hilton, President of Iowa State University at Ames. At the close of his address, the seniors crossed the stage for the last time as Roosevelt students to receive their diplomas. Behind them lay three wonderful years at Roosevelt; ahead of them lay their hopes and dreams of the future.

JUNE SENIOR CLASS

The 1960 Senior Class of Roosevelt, in the tradition of preceding senior classes, successfully and with much enthusiasm entered into such activities as cap and gown measurements, election of class officers, and selection of class committees. Graduation week, always hectic, began with Baccalaureate; the speaker was Mr. Cruickshank of Central Presbyterian Church. Class Day inspired undergraduates to better academic work by a special feature of the program known as The Superintendent's Awards, given to superior students in several fields. From Drake, George C. Huff, Vice-President of Academic Instruction, spoke to seniors on Graduation Day, June 9. Seniors culminated their school year with a parent-sponsored party held after Commencement.

UNDERCLASSMEN ACTIVITIES

"Have ambition not only to go farther than any man has ever been before, but as far as it is possible for a man to go."

This is the message the seniors would leave to the classes of '61 and '62. After two years of back-row seats in the auditorium and many times none at all in the cafeteria, after enduring subservient treatment from those afflicted with the common malady, "Senioritis," many of you are ready to step into the shoes of the class of '60 and do your share of shoving and swaggering.

Remember, though, who must be pushed hardest of all—yourself. Be the loudest cheering section at the games, but also (perish the drudgery) turn in the best senior themes and be able to show better results from your projects and drives than ever before.

And remember also, while you bask in the glory of being a recognized senior, who makes the blue of the pep club, who forms the majority in student council and clubs, who works on the committees without being a committee head.

It's every senior's privilege to swagger a bit, but swagger with a smile toward those below you; take the credit for leadership—but only a part of it. For some lead, others must follow.

A panorama of carefree, uninhibited underclassmen (and a few seniors, too) who haven't yet experienced the worry of graduation, senior themes, and just being a senior. Enjoy yourself! It's later than you think!

Posed in a picture of pulchritude as they are escorted before the masses at the Homecoming game by Dave Woltz and Bill Franquemont are the princesses, Ann Hendershot, Carolyn Lozier, Diane Heiny, and Jo Westergard.

Four young biologists in pursuit of a greater understanding of the mysteries of nature examine a small bird in a tenth grade biology class.

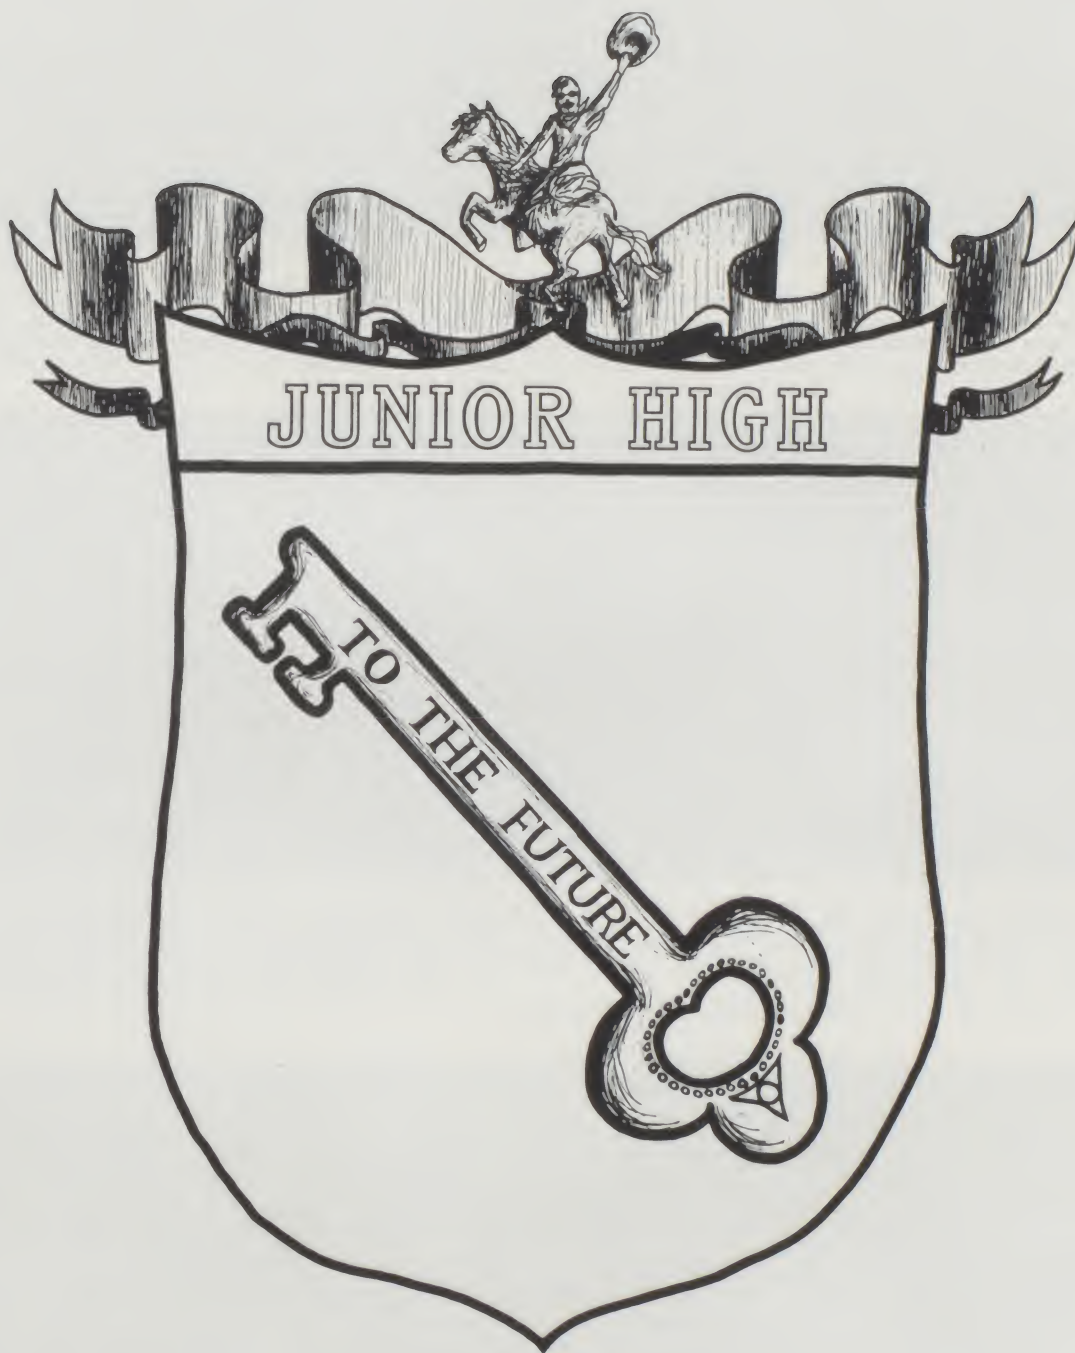

The alertness of underclassman Susan (Tiny) Grant catches the candid camera in a classroom shot. Larry Gray, who appears to be in deep meditation, is not impressed by the engaging smile of Diane Heiny.

"I'd vote for the city council form," says Sandy Schulz as she expounds on the merits of Des Moines' city government in a junior history class. Digesting her words in respectful attentiveness are Claudia Westphalen, Allen White, and Tom Whitaker.

“Life is a great adventure, and the worst of all fears is the fear of living. There is no other success that in any shape or way approaches that which is open to . . . men and women who have the right ideals.”—Theodore Roosevelt

JUNIOR HIGH ACTIVITIES

Running, screaming down the halls, knocking fire extinguishers off the walls—the Junior High. More sophisticated than their contemporaries at other Junior Highs, Roosevelt's Junior High, nevertheless, adds flavor in the form of spice to the tough grind of the Senior High's day. The junior highers are best known for their cookie sales (chocolate chip usually sell best, for future reference), but their talent shows rival the most exotically imagined Senior Frolics. Fascinating Student Council campaign posters denote the Junior High's special ability to imitate Senior High activities in a way which will enable them to carry on better in Senior High.

As far as Rider football fans were concerned 1959 will be remembered as the year that the rains came. It was this untimely, consistently foul weather that kept the Riders from fully attaining the great heights that were predicted of them before the season opener. But this was still a great football team in many ways. Coach Prior's new wing-T offense performed tremendously when given a chance on a dry field, scoring 41, 28, and 27 points in the three good weather games. Yet it was the fantastic Blue and White defense that was in the limelight most of the season. The gridders set a new Class I Iowa High School team defense mark holding their eight opponents to a meager total of 674 yards!

Valley 0

Roosevelt's leading ground gainer, Ron Severson (No. 20), is shown in his typical hard-hitting running style in the Riders' season opener against Valley. Understandably a bit ragged the Teds managed their margin of victory on Ted Striggles' short run.

Tech 0

A combination of a sea of mud and bad breaks held the Riders to a 0-0 tie. Here all-city back Ron Severson is pictured in one of many Rider attempts which fell just short of the Engineer goal line.

TRHS 40

Lincoln 7

Another night of mud didn't stop Roosevelt from showing its first real power on offense against a mediocre Lincoln outfit. This action shot exemplifies the poor playing conditions which plagued the Riders all year.

TRHS 41

Newton 6

Fleet halfback Ted Striggles (No. 13) bowls into the end zone for one of the Riders' seven touchdowns against the hapless Cardinals. Striggles set up his quick drive moments earlier when he galloped 60 yards to Newton's five.

TRHS 28

North 0

One of the big surprises of the 1959 season was the outstanding play of junior back John McClain. Here all-city back McClain rambles around end in a game in which North never penetrated beyond the Riders' 47 yard line.

Dowling 0

Another night of frustration was in store for Rider fans as a stubborn Dowling defense and a muddy field stopped Roosevelt three times inside the Maroons' 10 yard line. Above Bob Holliday (49) and Bill Franquemont (14) show why Roosevelt never let Dowling seriously threaten.

TRHS 2

East 6

East handed Roosevelt its first loss in fifteen games when Jim Payne sprinted 59 yards for the game's only TD. Despite the score Roosevelt dominated the game on offense and defense.

Roosevelt climaxed the season on a high note by crushing favored Ames on a dry field. Here kicking specialist Hank Bane (45) brings down a Cyclone back.

Riders Take Third Straight City Title

Fielding a team which looked, man for man, like one of the great lineups of all time, the Riders breezed through the regular season with a 14-2 mark. Their only losses were a pair of three point decisions to Dowling and Marshalltown. An air tight defense and the offensive wizardry of Roberts, Bittle, & Co. sparked genuine hopes for that long cherished state championship. After two hard earned victories in the sectional, Roosevelt lost another three point heartbreaker to Marshalltown, which went on to win the state championship.

SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL

The sophomore cagers marked up another successful season under Coach Anderson, with a 13-2 record and a third straight city championship. A red hot Marshalltown team and a bad night against North furnished the only blemishes on the record. The loss to North was avenged when the Teds trounced the Polar Bears 65-42 in the season's finale. Good height, fair speed, and smooth team work furnished hopes for the Rider varsity in years to come.

The old proverb that "statistics can be deceiving" certainly holds true as far as the season record of the 1959 Varsity Wrestling Team is concerned. For, despite only two victories in ten meets, wrestling is definitely on the upswing at Roosevelt. Don Ellingson (the newly acquired wrestling coach and former Olympic wrestler) feels certain that the grapplers will raise their record to .500 next year.

ALMOST, BUT NOT QUITE, was the sad story of this City Championship 154-pound match as far as ace Rider grappler Jon Newsome was concerned. Newsome (with the headgear) had his opponent, Jim Keltner of Tech, in pin position for thirty seconds only to lose the match on points.

A good example of the young crop of wrestlers that Coach Ellingson has developed is sophomore Ted Urban (right).

VARSITY BASEBALL

VARSITY COACH

Al Comito

Roosevelt's baseball team compiled one of the best early season records in years, knocking off six straight opponents before succumbing to Dowling 3-2 in the final of the sectional tourney. Strong contenders for the city title, the Riders boasted a stellar pitching staff and a powerful batting order. The hurlers were led by senior Bruce Lein and junior Frank Warrington while the batting attack featured Lein, John Coder, and Chuck Moore.

Three big reasons why the Riders' baseball season was so successful were first baseman Chuck Moore, ace reliever Frank Warrington, and centerfielder John Coder.

SOPHOMORE BASEBALL

VARSITY TRACK

HEAD COACH

Arden McClain

When Coach McClain's track squad finally got outdoors after the longest, coldest winter in recent years, they quickly made up for lost time. With creditable performers in the field events, and a strong crew of dash men that made them contenders in the sprint relays, they finished near the top in every meet they entered.

Corky Schakel, Dale Garton, Dave Burke. Row 4: Ron Kelly, Ron Royer, Jim Kreamer, Doug Wood, Dave Bristol, Jay Roberts.

Top performers in the running events were (l to r): Bob Ruby, Bill Franquemont, Bob Chrisjohn, John Knudson, and Frank Kaiser.

Valley Relays winner, highjumper Larry Gray, successfully clears the bar on a practice run.

Shotputter Maurice John works on his form which helped him take first place at the Marshalltown Relays.

CROSS COUNTRY

Under the inspiring guidance of new coach Don Ellingson the sport of Cross Country at Roosevelt took a long step forward when last fall's team finished fourth in the state tournament. Led by seniors Dick Talcott and Conrad Kent, and promising junior Rich Mason, the Harriers also posted an excellent 4-1 dual season mark.

VARSIITY GOLF

Varsity Coach

Clark Munger

This year's boys and girls golf teams had little difficulty in maintaining the excellent standards set by past Rider squads as they both coasted to fall City Championships and impressive spring dual season marks. Standouts for the two teams were Rod Bliss and Dick Tallman for the boys and Polly Gerhardt, Nicki Shadur, and Linda Cavey for the girls.

"Success . . . is that which comes to the man who differs from his fellows not by the kind of quality which he possesses but by the degree of development which he has given to that quality. This kind of success is open to a large number of persons, if they seriously determine to achieve it. It is the kind of success which is open to the man . . . who gets just as much as possible in the way of work out of the aptitudes he does possess."

"You," the editors said, "are to be the members of the 1960 Annual Staff!" After a few weeks of work, we realized that planning, organizing and producing an annual was a massive undertaking. Those once carefree sessions after school in 301 became more serious as month succeeded month. Evenings after school being insufficient, we began carrying what we fondly called "The Annual," home on weekends for more hard work. We suffered from a lack of sleep, we worried about picture deadlines, we wrote and rewrote copy, we made special trips to the printing company, and we experienced difficulty in identifying two thousand people in innumerable photographs. After an exhausting, but rewarding seven months of whole-hearted effort, our work was completed. Several new features of this year's Annual are the activity pictures at the end of the homeroom sections, the American Field Service Page, and the page devoted to kings and queens of the various school dances. We believe we have succeeded in giving to the student body an annual that all will enjoy keeping as a memorable record of Roosevelt High School between September, 1959, and June, 1960. You hold it in your hands now—the 1960 ANNUAL!

Betsy Seaburg has just finished her column for the paper and is obviously pleased with the results.

Racy Linda Boone had more than her fair share of problems as editor of the Fall Roundup, but like a true journalist, she forged ahead, always striving for the ultimate goal—a page with less than thirty-five mistakes on it. With her excellent, though small staff, she managed the achievement on the last page of the last newspaper which fortunately contained nothing but pictures. When asked how she had accomplished this excellent bit of journalism, Miss Boone replied: "I owe it all to my mother." No further comment was solicited.

This serious group, the Fall Roundup Staff, featuring the early-Monday-morning sports staff, is hard at work putting out the newspaper all Roosevelt depends on.

Undoubtedly two of the world's wittiest journalists, Jean Mack and Jim O'Brien actually put out a paper every two weeks, though the quality of content, they often complained, left something to be desired. The huge staff managed nicely to appear industrious during class periods and, surprisingly enough, on the day of publication all thirty-four students sauntered in to sort the paper, easily a job for only superior talent. Both Jean and Jim were happy and more than willing to submit a joint statement of relief, although Jim particu-larly stipulated that it be written by Jean with his approval. In its entirety: "We resign."

Mary Dalbey, Jean Mack, and Bob Taggart continue with the folding of papers at the same late hour.

TOP: Jan Austin and Jean Mack, Editor, confer about layouts.

BOTTOM: Bob Taggart and John Crowley are desperately folding papers at 8:05 on Wednesday morning.

Row 2: Julie Bruner, Marilyn Austin, Art Turner, Bill Fairbanks, Mel Short, Chuck Moore, John Coder, Fred Stephan, Dave Goldman, Mr. Pace.

With reorganized bylaws and fewer homeroom representatives, the Fall Student Council ended a work-filled semester, pushed, prodded, and pulled into shape by muscular Ted Striggles. One of the more interesting problems the Council had to work with was the question of a religious prayer before each full council session. Led in discussion by a council appointed committee, the group finally decided that when in doubt, at least for this year, it will be the majority who will prevail, and the religious prayer was kept for another semester. The controversy, however, provoked interesting conversation around the school for several weeks.

FALL STUDENT COUNCIL

Entertaining was the word for the art produced by the Booster committee with Sandy Hewitt as chairman. This poster obviously refers to the annual football madness.

Busy, busy, busy, was the word for the Spring Student Council, which undertook projects, projects, projects. To create affection for clean halls, weirdly decorated ashcans, which still resembled ashcans even under ten layers of crepe paper, were placed in the halls. A few BMOC even rallied round to help wash lockers. A discussion of whether or not Roosevelt students might be too proud to bring bundles to school during the annual Bundle Drive was held when the usual meager pile of clothing turned up after a six day struggle. Pressured by Julie Bruner in a council inspired assembly, the students were made to feel that it was not only their duty to bring bundles, but also their privilege. They filled the foyer with two truck loads the next day. To no one's amazement, Spring Council achieved much.

SPRING STUDENT COUNCIL

Student Council officers for the spring semester are Mel Short, judge; Mickey Montgomery, president; Floyd Pace, sponsor; Ann Lundahl, secretary; Terry Schauer, first vice-president; and Chuck Moore, second vice-president.

BOYS ACTIVITY COUNCIL

Taking time out from their early Thursday morning discussion of problems besetting the average teenage boy is the Boys Activity Council, posing for a Rogues' Gallery-type picture.

To the casual visitor, the major purpose of the Roosevelt Boys Activity Council might seem to be the perpetuation of a long-term discussion. We, however, have observed that Boys Activity Council does a great service to any boy willing to work for the good of all Roosevelt. Renewed interest in the club made Dad's night a rousing success, and the boys gathered together enough money to make a contribution to the AFS fund. With continuing service, the club retained its status as the long, strong, right arm of Vice-Principal Gareld Jackson.

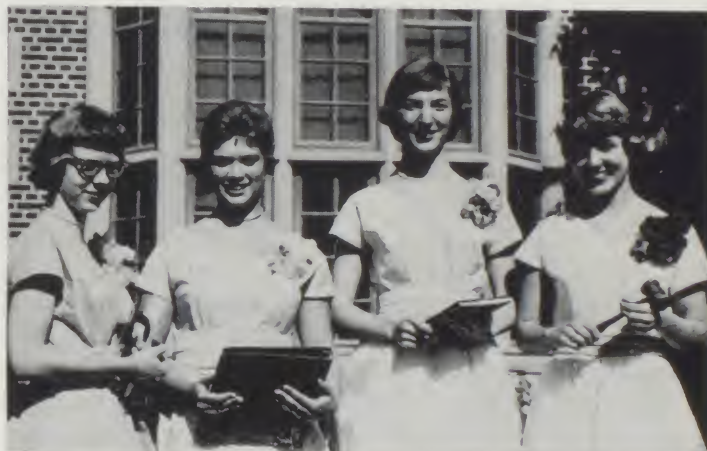

Contemplating girl-type problems on a boy-type basis are the Boys Activity Council Officers: Denny Ellis, treasurer; Bill Artis, president; and Bill Franquemont, secretary.

GIRLS CLUB

A club which has greatly enriched the experience of many at Roosevelt is the Girls Club. All senior high girls belong to this organization, and nearly all have played some part in its activities. Under the direction of Miss Gretta Wolfe and a competent cabinet, the club has carried out such projects as the Spinistres' Spree, the pep clubs, the pal system, and a mother-daughter tea. The members have brought others happiness through their visits to the Home for Sightless Women, parties at the Convalescent Home, and decorations at Blank Hospital. Indeed, this club can be proud of its tradition of service to the girls, to the school, and to the community.

Standing in their cool summer dresses are Jan Austin, Mary Burke, Mary Lea Mountain, and Mary Pearsall, officers of the Girls' Club.

LEFT: Is it a gang fight? Good grief, no! It's just an exuberant Girls' Pep Squad screaming the Basketball team on to victory. Play a guessing game and find Charlene Stroeber.

BOYS LEADERS

The noisiest room in the school, other than the girls' gym is—you guessed—the boys' gym, peopled with the "cream of the Roosevelt boys crop," the boys leaders. Lovers of sports, cold showers, and Messieurs Anderson and Munger, not necessarily in that order, the boys provide good refereeship for all regular sports and probably a few water fights. Although their apprenticeship is not as rigorous as the famed "lowlies," boys will be boys. Qualifications for boys' leaders are not quite as strict as for president of the United States; however (and a word to the wise is sufficient), heads of the department want the leaders "clean and neat."

GIRLS LEADERS

A debate as to who has the most fun, girls' or boys' leaders, would end in useless argument with the girls winning because girls always have the last word. These girls are the ones who for several weeks each fall and spring dress in the latest style, wear the cleverest hairdos, and make the Red Cross look like the big, bad wolf. The life of the poor lowlie is trying, and in some cases downright gruesome, but the excellent job of tormenting next semester's lowlies remains incentive enough to continue. This year, the Annual Play Day, held with the other high schools, was much fun for all who attended, both leaders and their leader leaders, Miss Becker and Mrs. Cole.

Intense about the serious nature of being a lowlie and worried to death for fear they'll smile (the little one on the end couldn't help herself) are:

Row 3: Carolyn Beard, Kay Durey, Jean Porter, Pat Busing, Julie Benderoff, Carol Glomset, Sue Grant, Mary Hughes, Robin Downey, Miss Becker, Ann Hansen.

When someone thinks of the Sharks' Club at Roosevelt, he automatically thinks of the Sharks' pageant given each fall. While preparation for the pageant involved much time and effort on the part of the club's members and sponsors, it is not the only activity for the club. Throughout the year, the girls give up their study halls and gym periods to help in swimming classes as lifeguards and student instructors. For an active swimmer who finds it impossible to build her own private indoor swimming pool, the Sharks' Club is a must. Other activities include tryouts each semester for Minnows to replace graduating girls, and initiation of new members at a semi-annual banquet.

During the past year, the German Club has been dedicated to the pursuit of "Kultur." Critics were thrilled by the club's literary masterpiece, The German Daily, which laid bare De Gaullist infiltration of the French department. It was in drama, however, that the club realized its greatest artistic fulfillment, for Goethe has found a worthy successor in Bruce Nicholl, author of three German plays: Die Drei Kleine Schweine (The Three Little Pigs); Kleine Knabe Blau (Little Boy Blue); and Der Milchmann Kommt (The Milkman Cometh), a drama of life and love on a dairy farm. Where else would one acquire such culture for only fifty cents? "Nowhere!" is Herr Buhr's modest comment. "Der Deutsch Klub is der wunderbarste Klub!"

Pictured here with the Fuehrer, Herr Buhr, are some of the German Club members. Notice please the presence of good old Saint Nick.

After school on certain Thursdays, a great group of girls gather for another meeting of French Club, sponsored by Mrs. Gaulke, renowned De Gaullist, who recently led a secret expedition of heretofore unknown scientists to the grave of Jeanne d'Arc. Rarely is a word of French spoken, but nevertheless the room is filled with a definite French atmosphere. The club has undertaken such cultural projects as a Christmas party with Pere Noel, himself, a joint meeting of the language clubs, an unforgettable play, a style show of Paris fashions, and a French speaker who enlightened the group on French culture and customs. The annual picnic was the final meeting of a very successful and enjoyable year.

This picture, smuggled from the files of J. Edgar Hoover, is undeniably the greatest scoop the Annual ever made. The origin of this picture cannot be divulged at this time, but we hope that it will clarify some of the nefarious activities around school.

A scene that isn't Paris, but the Roosevelt stage during the annual Pan American Day assembly presented by the Spanish, French, and German Clubs.

Fortunately for the reputation of the school, the Spanish Club did not, as previously announced, send its board en masse to the aid of Castro during recent fighting in Oriente province. Instead they decided to contribute to The Mothers of Unemployed Barbers' Relief Fund, another worthy project in the Latin Americas close to their hearts. To clarify certain Spanish customs, the Club co-sponsored a Pan American Day assembly, and as always the highlight of the day was the enchiladas served by club members. The last fling of the year, a whopping big picnic, was held with much festivity.

It's not an omelet! Joan Wallace, 10-A, is working on her "hatchability" project which took top honors at the Hawkeye Science Fair, a $400 scholarship.

MATH-SCIENCE CLUB

Glorying in the knowledge that the rest of the world was realizing what they had known about science and mathematics all the time, the club had a wonderful year. The members are past masters at winning practically every prize state and city science contests can offer. Not only were scholarships won, but also cruise trips and savings bonds. Interested members of the club took field trips to Iowa State University to see the new government-sponsored Atomic Energy building and various other scientific instruments and machines. The growing national interest in science is certainly reflected at Roosevelt by the Math-Science Club.

SECRETARIAL CLUB

The fact that Roosevelt has such a large and successful Secretarial Club only goes to prove that the school's students are diversified in interests. Probably one of the better organized clubs in the school, they, say the members, did such things as hear speakers from the Civil Service and Iowa State Merit System, listen to the experiences of a court reporter, and tour Bankers Life and Meredith's. The closing project of the year, a little different from those of other groups, was a Mother-Daughter Potluck, with a visit to Salisbury House.

What could be nicer for a Roosevelt boy than to have his poor sore finger iodined and bandaged by a beautiful and competent Future Nurse? "Always willing to help a Roosevelt boy" is the motto of the nurses, but in extreme cases they're willing to help other boys, too, and sometimes even a girl. This year the club has seen movies on different types of nursing, which as a career has as many different opportunities as does teaching, and has heard as excellent speakers, nurses involved in varied jobs. The club's greatest reward is the smiling faces of the patients at the various hospitals where they work as volunteers, bringing credit not only to their own skill, but to the school as well.

FUTURE NURSES

Happiness is a thing called nursing, obviously. Miss Newburgh is giving results of romantic incidents that occurred at hospitals, favorable results, of course.

As a young girl enters a completely strange kindergarten class, a small boy turns, points, and exclaims, "I know her; she's my neighbor!" This was not an unusual experience for the six senior future teachers who helped at Hubbell, where their duties ranged from dusting classrooms to designing Little Miss Muffet bulletin boards. Earlier in the year, club members served as guides at Salisbury House, undaunted by the fact that in every tour were one or more people who had been through the house every year for the past seven or eight. At least no one got lost, and the hard work of the club's senior members was rewarded by a spring recognition tea.

FUTURE TEACHERS

To a casual observer this might resemble a chemistry class after one of its more unusual experiments; the Annual knows that it's only a Hubbell classroom with one very pretty future teacher, Xenda Lindel.

This obviously posed picture is of a "typical" Scribblers meeting. However, such proximity is rarely practiced. The paper being read must be funny to some, as the girls in the front row are laughing.

The world will never be without a generous influx of writers as long as the Scribblers' Club is in existence. Led by their worthy president, beat poetry writer Brian Peterson, the club sought to outcreate creative writing when one of the members developed his own style of writing heretofore unknown to the western world. A contest to determine the best writing of the club in any style had not been decided at time of printing, but when the refreshment chairman coyly inferred that refreshments were "out" for the rest of the year unless her writings were . . . , the club thought that perhaps . . . Luckily, Miss Brody intervened and the contest continued without a rift.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Another new and promising addition to TRHS extra-curricular activities is the Home Economics Club under the co-sponsorship of Miss Dudley and Miss Baumgartner. The club is composed of girls interested in "accentuating the positive and eliminating the negative" elements in homemaking. Meetings included a New York model who displayed her wrinkle-free wardrobe and taught the girls how to take off their coats in a phone booth, a lesson in hair styling, and a taffy pull. Surely the future of the American home is safe in the hands of the ambitious girls of the Home Economics Club.

ART CLUB

This semester, eleven students organized a new club, the Ceramics and Art Club, under the sponsorship of Miss Keeler and presidency of Leon Jones, who led the group in its aesthetic explorations into the world of arts and crafts. The purpose of the club is to acquaint the members with great artists and works of various periods, and to enable them to instantly recognize masterpieces by their characteristic styles. However, the club was formed also to stimulate individual creativity. Who knows what infinite talent, even genius, may be discovered hidden in the members of this fine organization?

DISCUSSION CLUB

The Discussion Club was organized last semester by a group of students who felt an outlet was needed at Roosevelt for those who desired to formulate, share, and evaluate their views on contemporary topics. The charter members agreed upon a loose constitutional organization which would permit the greatest latitude of program and procedure. Special guest speakers from the Art Center and the Civil Liberties Union were invited for two meetings, while open discussions took place on topics such as art and conformity, disarmament and Soviet Russia. While the members solved no earthshaking problems, all concerned felt that they had benefited from the stimulation of interest in current problems afforded by the discussions.

DEBATE CLUB

Debate offers an outlet for controlled expression of opinions for those with enough self-control to follow the rules of formal debating procedure. The club members conducted organized debates and presented an assembly to acquaint the student body with debating procedures. The highlight of the season was participation in the State Forensics Meet at Iowa City at which time the members gained much experience. Club members are quick to point out that debating involves exercise in logical thinking, which is especially important for persons considering careers in politics. Debate proved worthwhile and interesting for all members.

CAMERA CLUB

The Camera Club, whose motto is "Cooperation, Altruism, and Punctuality," had a varied program this year of slides, field trips, and lectures on various photographic procedures. James D. Smith gave two lectures on the principles of macro and micro photography. Student participation included talks by Joe Ball and Arnold Balanoff. Two field trips were taken: the group went to Vets Hospital dark room and Elko Film Processing Laboratories. Fortunately for the welfare of the Annual and The Round-up, the Camera Club's members offer their services to both these publications. The school truly appreciates the Camera Club, though sometimes this isn't always evident.

COIN CLUB

Nearly every morning in homeroom, a conspicuous announcement is heard: "There will be an auction at Coin Club tonight in 210." As specified in its constitution, the Coin Club consists of "true coin collectors" interested in improving their coin collections and their new club. Their main project is auctions, to which members bring catalogues, coins, and vast sums of money. After determining the retail value of the coin being sold, and haggling over whether its condition is very good or fine, they boldly proceed to bid, barter, and buy. The sponsor of this active group is Miss Dick.

CHEERLEADERS

Regular and Alternate

Roosevelt has always been proud of its Athletic Department. Roosevelt Cheerleaders play an active part in making any season a success. This year, our cheering section was led by six energetic regulars and several equally agile alternates. The crowds admired their endurance as they led cheers in spite of rain, hail, sleet, and deep mud of the football field, and they responded to their effervescent enthusiasm during pep assemblies and basketball games. The funniest appearance of the Cheerleaders was a takeoff on the parody of the football team that the girls put on every year.

Here are the Cheerleaders and our alert band in action at one of our wild and wet football games. This year the entire season was plagued with muddy fields and drenched spectators.

RIDERETTES

Whether standing at the sides of the auditorium swaying with their pom-poms or marching smartly around the practice field in the pre-dawn glow, the Riderettes always provide precision in their function as a beautiful interlude in athletic activities. Although the efforts of the Riderettes were often hampered by the rainy weather, they managed through a skillful performance to please the spectators and add to the color of the game.

DRUM MAJOR and MAJORETTES

In front of the band at every football game or at a downtown parade, one can see the tall, straight drum major dressed in his white uniform whistling commands to the band members. Behind him march the four majorettes skillfully twirling their batons to the rhythm of the music. Much work goes into a performance, and all five receive a certain satisfaction from pleasing a receptive audience.

ORCHESTRA

A note of warning to those oblivious of this fact: Watch out for stray cymbals! A member of the percussion section of the Concert Orchestra can vouch for this. She was unfortunate enough to put her foot down in the wrong place as she hurried back and forth between bells, drums, and triangles during the performance of Beethoven's Fifth Symphony at the Winter Music Festival. Members of the audience were startled to see her glide with waving arms into the grand piano. Little did they know what it felt like to skate with cymbals strapped onto one foot. Besides regular performances at the Women's Club and East High the orchestra also provided entertainment during its daily practice sessions. At last report, the girls on the office staff were still trying out their chorus line technique to strains of the French Can-Can.

BAND

Casting soulful glances at their freshly polished white bucks, members of the Roosevelt Marching Band gingerly stepped onto another slippery, muddy field. Before the half-time show was over, several pairs of shoes had surrendered to the sticky mass. When Marching Season was finally over, the band with sighs of relief took to shelter with cleaner practices indoors. At the Winter Festival the band performed an especially noisy number, "The Driving Lesson," which almost ended in near catastrophe when a hubcap used for sound and visual effects rolled into the bandstand. But the members, like true performers, said, "The show must go on."

GIRLS GLEE CLUB

Most of us would agree that Roosevelt is fortunate to have many fine vocal groups. The Girls Glee Club under the direction of Miss Laura Duncan is one of the most active of these groups. Besides singing at various functions around Des Moines, the Club participates in the annual Winter Festival at Roosevelt and provides music for the Girls Club Installation each spring. The girls are proud of the fact the club was organized in the first year of the school's existence and has served the school ever since.

BOYS GLEE CLUB

Who are the prettiest people in the school (excluding the French Club, Spanish Club, Girls Club, Girls Leaders, Secretarial Club, Homemaking Club, Sharks Club, Girls Glee Club, Future Nurses, and Future Teachers)? Whether they are singing for Franklin Junior High or the Salvation Army Banquet, who would question that the blue dinner-jacketed Boys Glee Club wins the prize? When asked for his opinion of the organization, one member was quoted as saying: "It's fine when I'm directing." Without taking a straw vote, the unanimous opinions minus one was that Miss Duncan would continue to lead Boys Glee Club.

CONCERT CHORUS

OOP! Bill Prouty gives a hasty tug on his hula skirt, perched precariously on his hips, as he swings and sways to "Honey Bun" during dress rehearsal for "South Pacific." Even the girls became Polynesian hula dancers and Joe Atkinson went native as he danced the ancient ritual of the Boar's Tooth on Bali Ha'i. After such programs as the Winter and Spring festivals and PTA, rehearsals in leis and sarongs were quite a change for Roosevelt's Concert Chorus. Moreover, it will never be said that its members of 1960 were not versatile. After all, how many chorus girls and hula-dancing baritones are there!

In an assembly, the Concert Chorus, ably led by Miss Duncan, provides music that is beautiful and appropriate for the occasion.

KING and QUEENS

Fall

The beautiful homecoming queen this year was Mary Pearsall, who was accompanied by six lovely attendants. The Man of the Year, big, blond, blushing Terry Schauer, smiled uncomfortably, but was appreciated by all the ladies. TRHS's candidate for the Polio Queen of Des Moines was Sherry Caple.

Big highlight of the Spring queendom season was the selection of the Drake Relays Princesses. This year three girls were chosen: Bonnie Zeller, 10-A; Nancy Denny 11-A; and Sally Witmer 12-A. They furnished a bright spot in a typically dreary Drake Relays afternoon.

DRAMA CLUB

The organization and needs of Drama Club grew so large this semester that the club yielded a new off-spring, a club for play-readings, which will in years to come make every Roosevelt student akin to Brooks Atkinson. The remaining skill of the club was all pointed to the big event of the year, the spring musical South Pacific. During the year, such notables as Leon Jones and Tom Woodard amused the club with monologues and sketches, using talent gained through summer theater work. The rest of the club, although howling with laughter, decided that summer theater was not for them.

At a rehearsal of Our Town, Tom Woodard is pictured in a scene with Steve Myers and Candy Nichols.

Thornton Wilder's sensitive interpretation of the American way of life as told in Our Town was staged in February.

Billis tries to sell a grass skirt to Bloody Mary.

The main leads of South Pacific included Bill Prouty as Billis, Carol Glomset as Nellie Forbush, Kay Durey as Bloody Mary, Debbie Kirkman as Liat, Ed Bittle as Emile de Becque, and Dan Nelson as Lieutenant Joe Cable.

“SOUTH PACIFIC”

The most rewarding experience for a group of actor-singers is the staging of a musical, particularly an excellent Rodgers and Hammerstein musical. Because of the hard work of many students, rehearsals until eight o'clock, and the direction of Mr. Bagley, Mr. Anderson, and Miss Duncan, South Pacific was the greatest drama success since Anne Frank. Cooperation between the music, art, and drama departments, necessarily of the essence in such a production, was excellent. Ed Bittle's Francaise put Maurice Chevalier to shame. One of the amusing parts of the show was the appearance of hula-boys, dressed like Seabees, fluttering their wispy skirts to the music of the Concert Orchestra which truly sounded professional. All in all, South Pacific was typical of the fine dramatic productions that Roosevelt students are capable of producing.

Singing a beautiful Rodgers and Hammerstein love song are the leads of South Pacific, Ed Bittle and Carol Glomset.

“Younger than Springtime” is the tender, hopeless love of Liat for Lt. Joe Cable, as portrayed by Debbie Kirkman and Dan Nelson.

MOVIE CREWS

The sound of the thundering herd awakens any sleepyhead in study hall or history. Although sometimes it seems as if Mr. Comito has a corner on the market, everybody takes advantage of the services offered by the 16 and 35 millimeter crews. The boys, all of whom have fine character, are especially noted for their ability to sit through the same Home Economics film six times in a row without being noticeably affected. Of course, none of them learned to bake a cake, either. Asked to name special qualities desired in a boy for this job, Mr. Michner replied, "Time available!" The life of the 35 millimeter crew is varied only by the choice of movies allotted the TRHS student body. One imagines that they couldn't look at a single western on TV at home. The Senior Frolics and "South Pacific" painters played havoc with the performance of the noon movie, two months in a row. Such is life in a movie booth!

Reddy Kilowatt, your electric servant, and Blue Blazes, your natural gas servant, are on the job around the clock — every day of the year — to see to it that everyone gets the best electric and gas service possible. They're ready on instant call to do many jobs around your home. They're an ideal pair because they perform so many services, yet their cost is reasonable. They help make your days and nights more enjoyable.

WHY DON'T YOU

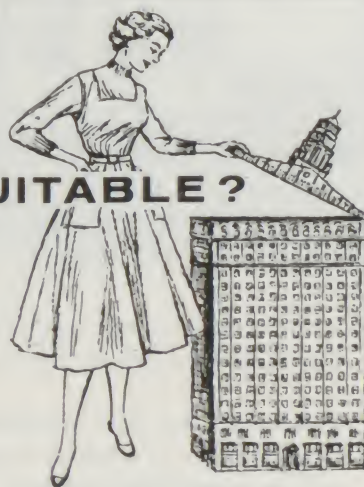

LOOK INTO THE EQUITABLE?

When you're starting out in business you want to affiliate yourself with a good sound company and one that has the interest of its employees at heart. Here at the Equitable Life of Iowa you work in pleasant surroundings among congenial people — all friendly and helpful. Then too, there are so many things done to build up the right mental attitude and to keep morale high. Twice a day for instance, a coffee cart visits each floor of the building with hot and cold beverages and pastries. There are regular paid vacations, salary increases and all kinds of opportunities for advancement in your position with the company. Also there is a complete medical service room with an attendant nurse for little ills and discomforts and a generous sick leave plan, too. Why don't you look into the Equitable — ask for Miss Bush at the Personnel Office, 1317 Equitable Building, and discuss the opportunities that exist for you.

Equitable LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF IOWA

Congratulations . . .

. . . on your graduation from Roosevelt High School

A big decision now lies before you—join the armed forces . . . get a job . . . go to college. The folks at the Mill Owners Mutual wish you every success in whatever you choose to do.

Before making that important decision, however, it will pay you to investigate the vast opportunities in Mutual Insurance and we at the Home Office of the Mill Owners Mutual will be most happy to help you.

Most of our people are graduates of Des Moines high schools and many have attended college before coming with us.

Regardless of what you decide, remember that the Mill Owners Mutual can offer you a future in Sales, Underwriting, Accounting, Claims, Loss Prevention and many other opportunities in the great field of insurance.

Make the World Your Bookshelf

You may not realize it, but with your certificate of graduation you have been awarded an unlimited scholarship. At your finger tips—bound in the experience of centuries and in the wisdom of ages—lies a world of knowledge, its richness and its value subject only to your determination to draw on it.

So, along with our congratulations, goes the urge that you take advantage of this unlimited scholarship by making the world about you your lore-laden bookshelf.
